

Choose the best answer.

One night in London, nearly a year later, a servant girl was sitting (1) to/ at / on / in her bedroom window, looking out at (2) there / that / this / the moonlit street. She saw a tall, (3) beautiful / pretty / handsome / expensive old man with white hair coming (4) through / past / along / straight on the street, and a shorter, younger (5) person / man / men / boy walking towards him. The old man (6) was speaking / speaks / spoke / had spoken politely to the younger one. He (7) seemed / felt / looked like / was, the girl said later, to be (8) telling / finding / asking / wanting his way. Then the girl looked (9) much / more / so / too closely at the younger man and (10) recognized / remembered / noticed / liked him.

‘It was Mr Hyde,’ she (11) told / decided / said / asked later. ‘He once visited my master.’

(12) Dr / Mr / The / Then Hyde, the girl said, was carrying (13) a / some / large / the heavy stick. He was playing with (14) them / that / stick / it impatiently as he listened to the (15) modern / young / old / new man. Then suddenly he seemed to (16) light / blow up / explode / flame with anger.

‘He was like a (17) madman / crazy / wild / bad,’ the servant girl said. ‘He shook (18) him / he’s / his / their stick at the old man, who (19) was stepping / stepped / had stepped / steps back in surprise. Then he hit (20) an / the / this / at old man violently with the stick (21) when / and / before / that knocked him to the ground. He (22) beats / beat / beating / beaten the helpless body again and again. (23) I / He / They / We could hear the bones breaking . . . It (24) was / was being / wasn’t / is so terrible that I began to (25) look / be / go / feel ill. Then everything went black and (26) I’m / I’ve / I’d / I don’t remember any more.’

It was (27) midnight / at / two / night o’clock in the morning before she (28) got / was / had / be conscious again, and able to call (29) a / the / some / those police. The murderer had disappeared, but (30) one / the / a / it dead man was still lying on the ground with the murder weapon beside him.